Beskrivning av diagram

A description of the diagrams

The diagrams display the data that presented in the corresponding tables, i.e the current filtering. Monthly payments are displayed by a horizontal or standing stack. The time series is displayed by a line graph. If you wish to create your own diagram, then it is possible download source data for the current filtering at the bottom of this page. The units in the diagram display the amount of people and Swedish crowns (SEK) per month. High values are denoted according to the following:

- k (kilo) corresponds to one thousand crowns or one thousand people.
- M (Mega) corresponds to million crowns
- G (Giga) corresponds to billion crowns

Källor och datakvalitet

Sources and data quality

The data about payments of a national public pension are fetched from the administrative system that disburses the national public pension. Minor deviations can apply. Data about gender and population registration are fetched from the Swedish Pension Agency's client register. Data in the client register are updated with a certain delay. Those with incomplete data regarding year of birth and gender are not included in these statistics. This loss-rate consists of merely a few people and can be considered negligible.

Definition och fotnoter

Definition and footnotes

Our statistics include everyone who is paid national public pension during the chosen month, regardless of the amount. The national public pension includes income pension, supplementary pension, premium pension and guarantee pension. From September 2021, it also includes income pension supplement. All amounts are stated before tax. Those with incomplete client statistics regarding year of birth and gender are not included in the statistics. The loss-rate is low and can be considered negligible. 99 Uppgift saknas means that regarding statistics divided by county, these individuals are not registered as residents of Sweden. National public pension is also paid to those who live overseas.

2. Bostadstillägg och äldreomsörjningsstöd

Housing supplement and financial support for the elderly

Here you will find statistics on the payment of housing supplements including special housing supplements and elderly support.

Bostadstillägg

Housing supplement

A housing supplement is a tax-free supplement that individuals with a low pension can receive. The statistics on housing supplements show all pensioners who receive a housing supplement including special housing supplements during a given month. To receive special housing supplements, you need to receive housing supplements.

Älder och folkbokföring

Age and civil registration Age means age at the end of the month. Usually, an individual should be 66 years old or older in order to receive a housing supplement from the Swedish Pension Agency (2023). In cases where an individual is granted a pension due to a widow's pension or other pensions, he or she can be under 65 years old. The municipal or county affiliation is based upon the individuals known population registration on the second day of the month. To be eligible, the individual must be a Swedish resident. If an individual is living abroad on the second day of the month or later the individual is entitled to a housing supplement the month that the move takes place.

Bostadstillägg till sjuk- och aktivitetsersättning

Housing supplement for sick and activity compensation A housing supplement is a benefit that is divided between the Swedish Social Insurance Agency and the Swedish Pension Agency. Individuals who are entitled to a housing supplement due to sick and activity compensation are not included in the Swedish Pension Agency's statistics, instead they are disclosed by the Swedish Social Insurance Agency. If an individual is receiving a housing supplement combined with sick and activity compensation and any of the Swedish Pension Agency's benefits, the payment can be disclosed by both agencies.

Äldreomsörjningsstöd

Financial support for the elderly

Financial support for the elderly is meant for individuals who are over the age of 65 (2023) who are not getting their fundamental supply needs met by other benefits within the national public pension system. The support is based on settlement and has large similarities with the housing supplement and the special housing supplement. Individuals who completely lack housing expenditures can also be granted financial support for the elderly. Financial support for the elderly is not subjected to tax.

The statistics on financial support for the elderly show all pensioners who receive a financial support for the elderly during a given month.

Ålder och folkbokföring

Age and civil registration Age refers to age at the end of the month. Which county one belongs to is determined by the population registration on the second day of the month. In order to receive financial support for the elderly, the individual must be a Swedish resident. If the individual moves abroad on the second day of the month or later, the individual is entitled to financial support for the elderly starting with the month that he or she moves.

6. Official Statistics of Sweden

Sweden's Official Statistics (SOS) are statistics that are particularly important for describing Sweden. Official statistics contribute to the development of our society by being objective and relevant, which benefits citizens.

Swedish Pensions Agency has been tasked by the Government to be responsible for the official statistics within Social insurance: National public pension and other financial support (previously Support in old age). As a government agency responsible for statistics, we are responsible for ensuring that

- the statistics are objective
- the statistics are documented
- the statistics are accompanied by a quality declaration.

Official statistics must be kept publicly available free of charge on the internet. All official statistics must bear the text Sweden's official statistics and/or carry the logo.

The logo and the text Sweden's official statistics may not be used in further processing of the official statistics.

Government agency network

There are about thirty government agencies in Sweden who are responsible for the official statistics. Statistics Sweden is responsible for coordinating and supporting the system for official statistics.

To read more about what constitutes official statistics and which government agencies form part of the network, visit Statistics Sweden's website: www.scb.se/sos
