Definition och fotnoter

Definition and footnotes

The statistics are based upon registered details and cover the current population from the last day of December each year. The data about payments of a national public pension are fetched from the administrative system that disburses the national public pension. Data about gender, date of birth and population registration are fetched from the Swedish Pension Agency's client register. The data about occupational pension and private pension are fetched from the Swedish Tax Agency in connection with the tax returns being completed and on an ongoing basis from the PAYE tax returns. The data about occupational pension before 2015 are fetched from Statistics Sweden.

Total pension

Total pension

The table shows how many individuals receive a national public pension and an occupational pension as of 2005. From 2010, widow's pension is included and from 2015, private pension is included. The statistics include people registered in Sweden the last day of December each year.

Occupational pension can be paid to people who has not received the minimum retirement age. Widow's pension can also be paid to younger widows, but only people who have reached the minimum retirement age are included in the data.

Allmän pension includes payments of income pension, supplementary pension, premium pension, guarantee pension or income pension supplement. The amounts refer to the ordinary payments that have been made during the applicable year.

Änkepension includes payments of widow's pension or guarantee pension to widow's pension. The amounts refer to the ordinary payments that have been made during the applicable year.

Tjänstepension includes payments of occupational pension from employers and insurance companies. The amounts are declared payments of occupational pensions that have been made during the applicable year. Both old age occupational pension and survivor's occupational pension are included.

Privat pension includes payments of private pension insurance and pension savings account. The amounts are declared payments of private pensions that have been made during the applicable year.

The report discloses information about the number of individuals who had a payment of pension during the year and have received the minimum retirement age. The majority had a payment for twelve months, but people who have less than twelve months of payments will also be included in the data.

3. Official Statistics of Sweden

Sweden's Official Statistics (SOS) are statistics that are particularly important for describing Sweden. Official statistics contribute to the development of our society by being objective and relevant, which benefits citizens.

Swedish Pensions Agency has been tasked by the Government to be responsible for the official statistics within Household finances: Pensions. As a government agency responsible for statistics, we are responsible for ensuring that

- the statistics are objective
- the statistics are documented
- the statistics are accompanied by a quality declaration.

Official statistics must be kept publicly available free of charge on the internet. All official statistics must bear the text Sweden's official statistics and/or carry the logo.

The logo and the text Sweden's official statistics may not be used in further processing of the official statistics.

Government agency network

There are about thirty government agencies in Sweden who are responsible for the official statistics. Statistics Sweden is responsible for coordinating and supporting the system for official statistics.

To read more about what constitutes official statistics and which government agencies form part of the network, visit Statistics Sweden's website: www.scb.se/sos
